The Etcetera Theatre is an intimate black box theatre with end-on raked seating. It seats 42 people and is well equipped with sound, lights and AV. There is a small dressing room leading directly onto the stage and although limited, it has storage space for props and costumes.

Like last year we will have 5 slots a day, available 7 days a week which will be offered for a reduced hire fee (starting from £50) plus 30% of the ticket sales. We allocate a maximum number of 5 slots / company and we will give priority to companies who include the Sundays and/or Mondays in their long runs (ex: Thursday – Monday or Weds – Sunday). All this is designed to give equal opportunities to all companies. This method has been tested and proven for the past 3 years, it works for both the Theatre and the Company.

The Etcetera was the first venue to be part of the Camden Fringe and has been bursting at the seams each August since 2006. We're very broad minded about the types of shows that come here so whether you're into theatre, cabaret, performance art, comedy, puppetry and/or all of the above, we look forward to hearing from you!
